SOME SUGGESTIONS

on a Political Nature Concerning Preachers and Other
"Good People."

Are You a Renegade or Fool Democrat?

We clip the following from the Lexington Morning Herald of Friday, October 29.

"On Tuesday night there was held in Louisville a large and very imposing mass meeting of citizens who desire the election of Henry Stone as criminal judge. The speakers were Col. Thos. W. Bullock, a Confederate and old Democrat, who refused to vote for Bryan in 1896 and in 1900, and who now guestily calls himself an Independent.

Mrs. Helm Bruce, who was reared in the very strictest school of disdained States rights Democrats—Fridays and the Rev. Dr. Powell, who is a free silver Democrat in 1896 and voted for Mr. Bryan and who now bounces his continued connection with the Democratic party, chairman was Mr. Donald A. Donald, a Confederate, a free Democrat and now a Democrat. We have rarely read as good and thoughtful speeches as those made at this meeting; and we are unable to decide whether the speech of Helm Bruce or Dr. Powell is the abler or more eloquent.

"It was a non-partisan meeting, held to protest against certain violent attacks on Henry Stone and to advocate his election.

In passing we extract two epigrammatic sentences from the speech of Dr. Powell: "I am not a renegade Democrat. A renegade Democrat is one who votes his party ticket without consulting his conscience. I am not a fool Democrat—one who votes his party ticket without consulting his intelligence." We cordially commend these weighty sentences to our readers.

"It will be noticed that the chairman and all the speakers were in tenet and principle Democrats; two were sound money Democrats, two free silver Democrats; two had been in the Confederate army and had 'quit themselves like men.'

Our object is to emphasize the belief that preachers, lawyers, all men, ought to take a more active part in our canvass, in all our political matters and more often participate in our popular assemblies and mass meetings. We think it well for preachers not to become active politicians, not to participate prominently in the machinations of parties and not to be active in mere personal advocacy of candidates. But preachers, all professional men, as well as all business men, are citizens, and every citizen owes it to himself, to his family, to his business, to his city, to his county, his State, his country to play his part in the discussion, settlement and consummation of all political matters. All citizens ought on proper occasions to attend popular meetings, and be ready to lead, guide, instruct, protest, denounce, if need be. The country ought to have for her service her very best and best qualified citizens in Kentucky.

Where our judiciary is elective, the judicial department—its integrity, its ability, its purity, its fearlessness may depend on political parties and political machinery. And sometimes this becomes the most vital part of practical politics. Whenever the courts are controlled by the criminal or semi-criminal classes, where the judges are elected, then the purification of the judiciary becomes the very paramount issue of political action. Perhaps in a free country the most disastrous results of party politics is a corrupt, subservient and incompetent judiciary; a judiciary in secret but recognized partnership with the semi-criminal classes; a judiciary which is in part annex and in part a tool of the corrupt wholly unknown to us. But the appearance of such men on that platform—the speeches there delivered—will have an effect on the people of Louisville and the State in exciting indignation at wrong and creating a purpose to fight for the right.

Yet we put precious little reliance on the work and persistency of the

HEADQUARTERS!

WE ARE STILL HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL THAT IS LATEST, BEST AND MOST TASTEFUL IN

Dress Goods, Silks, Ladies' and Childrens' Cloaks, Furs, Osiery &c., &c.,

Special attention is called to our FANCY WORK DEPARTMENT, where we have all the new ideas.

Madam Knott still has charge of the Dressmaking Department, and Mr. Vleck remains at the head of the Ladies' Tailoring Department. They need no introduction to the ladies of Montgomery County.

element in politics; and then it becomes the duty of every citizen—including the preachers—to unite for the redemption of such judiciary by driving from it, or preventing the election to it, of time-serving, weak and corrupt judges.

"This meeting and these speeches may or may not have any appreciable effect on this pending canvass

—and what effect it will have is "good people" of a community. As a rule they are an ill-disciplined, half-hearted and easily depressed militia, without the heart to make a fight and an irresistible tendency to quit fighting after one campaign, they are enthusiastic, intense and evanescent. They generally fire blank cartridges and the noise of the explosion is loud, the smell of powder acute and the execution nil. They are elegant on dress parade and unavailing in battle. If they happen to win one victory it elates and disbands them, and each returns to the sweets of private life with much boasting, and the semi-criminal classes emerge from their temporary hiding place and resume business at the old stand. The "good people" are responsible for all habitual crime, for the continuance of all systematic, scientific and organized disobedience to law. If they were one tenth as earnest as they think they are, they would always win.

Poultry Shows.

Encourage the shows, for they are the life of the business. It is here where the beginner becomes interested and determined to buy some fowls which catches his eye. Many sales of stock and eggs are made as a result of the show.

At the show where birds of every description, from the Bantam to the Brahama in an endless variety of shapes and colors are on dress parade, that is where among the many visitors thousands are annually added to the list of Fanciers.

There seems to be something irresistible in the grand array of fine feathers at the poultry show which awakens a longing desire to possess some of the many beautiful fowls on exhibition, in the breasts of nearly every one attending the show.

As an aid to those who have already begun the breeding of purebred poultry the show serves as a school where he must learn by placing his fowls in competition with others, in order to ascertain their true worth and if found wanting, profit by the experience gained, study the score cards of your birds, see wherein they were found wanting and breed out the defects before another year.

Give the show your hearty support. Become a member of your poultry association. If you live in the State of Kentucky send one dollar for one year's membership in the Kentucky State Poultry Association to Jno. H. Good, Louisville, Ky., and take an active part in the coming show which will be held at Louisville, Jan. 4 to 10, 1904.—Inland Farmer.

The Guns We Shoot.

The annual report of Gen. Gillespie, Chief of Engineers of the Army, submits a total estimate of $10,866,100 for fortifications for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905. Defense of our insular possessions has been approved and will soon be under way. The sea coast defense of the United States are now more than 50 per cent completed. There are now 334 twelve, ten and eight-inch guns, 567 rapid-fire guns and 376 twelve-inch mortars. Gen. Gillespie asks for $250,000 for work on the Ohio river and $3,050,000 for the Ohio river.

Angora goat raising is becoming more popular each succeeding year because live stock producers are convinced that there is money in growing this animal, says the Drovers' Journal. The Angora makes money in more ways than any other animal. His flesh, pelt and hair all have a high commercial value, but in many places his greatest worth is in cleaning up the brush and small undergrowth which bars the way to cultivation of the land. We have heavy importers of goat skins, the value last year being $25,000,000. There is no use in importing any when we have the best country in the world for raising them. The numbers are gaining so rapidly that in time we may be exporters both of skins and mohair.

VICTORY.

There will be many solutions advanced for the majority of Tuesday's election. We have ours and it is this: First, the State is democratic; second, the flattering promises of the Republicans and the Democratic scare crows they had out were for nothing; third, the Beckham administration had been clean, and the payment of debt from a claim collected after the failure of others to do so; fourth, the enforcement of the laws against all manner of crime from assassination and murder down; fifth, the presentation of a clean and capable ticket; sixth, Democrats stood out against trusts and all kinds of combinations and contended for the right of the great common people; seventh, Democratic organization; eighth, the continuous and effective work of the campaign committee; ninth, the people lined up for the party that brought about results. There are many other reasons why they went to the polls and made the great aggregation of Tuesday. Another we append: The suffrage of the people was beyond the influence of the enemy's corruption fund.

The election of Morgan Chinon in the office of Clerk of the Court of Appeals gives our Wm. B. O'Connell the chief deputy's position. We are glad. He will make a fine official.

From Frenchburg.

Menifee county gave Beckham a majority of 895 and Whitt, candidate for Senator, 414.

BE CONSIDERATE.

We want our Democrats to show their enjoyment over the great victory, but we would urge consideration of the feelings of those sorely disappointed. We drive them farther away by showing an aggravating spirit. The reasonable will accept with manliness the inevitable result, and the fellow with his bristles up, epithetical by word and spirit, is not worthy of notice. Be considerate.

DEMOCRACY LIVETH.

Some of the ardent Republicans have been giving out the free information that Democracy was dead, but yesterday's election furnishes evidence of much life. She has shaken the bushes and the majorities place Kentucky out of the doubtful column to stay.

Montgomery has proved herself Democratic by the vote of Tuesday, giving the head of the ticket a majority of 309.

All the former city Councilmen were re-elected in 1st, 2nd and 4th wards, and in the 3rd Ben Hamilton, colored, was added. The Council now stands 6 Democrats and 2 Republicans, the Republicans are colored men.

Kentucky Democrats win by over 20,000. Gains in every section. Montgomery did herself proud in State and local ticket.

Mrs. Booth-Tucker was on her way home from a visit to the colony at Amity. She left Kansas City and was to have met Commander Booth-Tucker, her husband, at Culverton on Thursday.

MESSAGE TO SALVATIONISTS.

General Wm. Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, has sent the following message to Salvationists throughout the world concerning the tragic death of his daughter, Mrs. Booth-Tucker:

"I am suddenly prostrated with grief in the presence of what appears at this moment to be an indescribable calamity and an unfathomable mystery. I can only look up and say to my Heavenly Father, 'Thy will be done.' My daughter was, after her mother, first among the many noble and consecrated women I have been permitted to know during the fifty years of my public life. Her loss is irreparable, but so much more need there is there for me, for you and for us all to go on with our work for God and the blessing of our fellowmen. This, however my heart may bleed, is my purpose so long as He may be pleased to prolong my life. The blow will fall with intense severity on Commander Booth-Tucker and on my officers and soldiers in America, for whom my daughter fought, and toiled so long. In the midst of my own sorrow my heart goes up to God in their behalf. Pray for them."

Feeding New Corn to Hogs.

The season when new corn will fed to hogs quite extensively is approaching, and farmers who wish to keep their hogs healthy would do well to consider the danger of a sudden change of diet from old corn to new, says Wallace's Farmer. It is a general opinion among farmers that cholera comes in with new corn and that the cheaper the corn the more cholera among the hogs. While we do not believe that the feeding of new corn without the introduction of cholera germ will ever produce cholera, nevertheless we do believe that indiscriminate feeding will produce something so near like cholera that it is regarded as the same disease. The corn cribs of the west are unusually empty and there will be a strong temptation to feed new corn exclusively as soon as it is in hard roasting ear. Farmers had better buy corn at present prices than make this sudden change of diet, and hence the feeding of new corn should be delayed as long as possible until the corn is quite fully matured and then begin quite gradually, so that the pigs may become accustomed to the new diet.

We have spoken about this once before, but we think it worth while to take it up again, and urge our readers to use their good common sense and not get their hogs out of condition, so that in case cholera should appear there will not be any unnecessary large mortality.—Drovers' Journal.

Men should be careful as to their speech.

What the Sun Has Done.

Without the sun there would be nothing here—no man, no life. Coal is nothing but stored-up bottled sunshine. The sunlight of many years produced forests, which, falling, were buried in the earth and changed into coal. So when we put coal in the cook stove we may truthfully say that we are boiling the kettle with [many year-old] sunshine.

Similarly there would be no waterfalls for us to chain and convert into electricity, as we have done to Niagara. If the sun did not evaporate the water of the sea, take it up in clouds and afterwards empty the clouds in rain on the mountain tops, whence the water tumbles down again to the sea. So no wind would blow without the sun to work changes in the air.

In short, therefore, we have been using the sunlight all these years, hardly knowing it, but not directly. Think of the tremendous amount of heat which comes to the earth from the sun! Every boy has tried using a burning glass to focus a few inches of the sun's rays, will set fire to paper or cloth.—Success.

Energy all gone? Headache? Stomach out of order? Simply a case of torpid liver. Burdock Blood Bitters will make a new man or woman of you. 16-4t Profanity is too common on our streets.

Hundreds of lives saved every year by having Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the house just when it is needed. Cures croup, heals burns, cuts, wounds of every sort. 16-4t

Col. Stone Back in Fold.

Col. W. J. Stone, former Democratic Congressman, was in the crowd which greeted Governor Beckham at Kuttawa. To a press representative he denied that the Republicans had any authority for claiming his support. More, he said he was for the entire Democratic ticket. The fact that Col. Stone was back in the fold was pleasing information, as he had not acted with the party since 1899.

Similarly there would be no waterfalls for us to chain and convert into electricity, as we have done to Niagara. If the sun did not evaporate the water of the sea, take it up in clouds and afterwards empty the clouds in rain on the mountain tops, whence the water tumbles down again to the sea. So no wind would blow without the sun to work changes in the air.

No matter how long you have had the cough; if it hasn't already developed into consumption, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will cure it. 16-4t

Amputation of Miss Herring's Foot.

Miss Allie Herring, whose foot was injured by a South Broadway car some time ago in Lexington, underwent an operation at the St. Joseph's Hospital. The toes of the foot were amputated the night of the accident, and for a time it was thought that the foot could be saved, but the physicians deemed amputation necessary to prevent blood poisoning. She was a clerk in the Lakeview Flower store of J. D. Yarrington & Son.

Farm for Sale.

My farm of 150 acres, two miles from town, on pike is for sale. It is well watered and fenced, and has fine tobacco and stock barns and all necessary outbuildings. The residence is a two story frame with eleven rooms, and porches and a nice home.

EXHIBIT OF SCULPTURE.

Half Million Dollars Expended on Statuary Display.

Important Figures in History of Louisiana Purchase Territory and Alive Moral Story of the Country
Shows in Beautiful Statuary.

For the sculptural ornamentation of the World's fair grounds and buildings an appropriation of $100,000,000 in dollars has been made. The total number of statues will be over a thousand. Mr. Karl Franzia, Theodore Bitter, Chief of Sculpture, has searched out every sculptor of note in the United States to be represented in the work. The great artist, Augustus Saint-Gaudens, whose plan was passed upon and approved by an advisory committee composed of the three foremost sculpors of this country,
Augustus St. Gaudens, Daniel
Chester French and J. Q. A. Ward.

The scheme will be to represent the history of the Louisiana Purchase territory, dividing the figures and groups into four classes. The first class are the original owners of the soil, represented by the Indians that roamed the prairies and for several hundred years were the second owners, represented by those after whom came the hardy race of discoverers, explorers, hunters, trappers and pioneers who wrested the soil from the red men. The fourth and last owners of the land were the more highly civilized men of France, Spain and England. The Spanish took a large part in its development. The jubilant character of the centennial celebration has been also recognized and a festive note has been struck in the decoration of the cascades and stair-

A POOL OF DRUMFISH.
Big Fish Placed on Exhibition in New York Aquarium.

People with a fancy for big fish will be interested in the drumfish now on exhibition in one of the pools at the New York aquarium. There are seven of them here, ranging in length from 3½ to 4 feet and in weight from 50 to 60 pounds.

The drumfish attain a weight of 100 pounds, but 50 and 60 pounds are big fish, nevertheless, and these specimens seem close at hand, as they are, look their size and weight. These drumfish were taken in Sandy Hook bay and brought to the city in a fish car to tow a tug.

There have been placed in the pool with the drumfish, says the New York Sun, a lot of small sharks, including sand sharks and one little blue shark which previously had been installed in the great central pool. The sand sharks are about the same length as the drumfish, but with their more slender bodies they look much smaller.

The little blue shark here, which is something of a rarity in these waters, is about two feet long. The blue shark, which fishermen hereabouts call the Spanish shark, is common in tropical waters, where it grows to be from 12 to 15 feet in length and to weigh from 600 to 800 pounds. The blue shark has saw-shaped teeth, instead of teeth like horseshoe nails turned inward, such as the sand shark has.

Only occasionally does a little blue shark get far north as this, but rarely a big one. This little fellow was taken where the sandsharks in the pool were obtained, in Gravesend bay.

A Woman's Wealth. Paine's Celery Compound

GIVES VIGOR AND STRENGTH TO DEBILITATED AND RUN DOWN WOMEN.

It is maintained by many distinguished writers that the greatness of a nation depends much upon the physical condition of its women. The general conditions which contribute to health and long life, are those which do not imply a rapid and unequal exhaustion of their powers by mental exertion, and which are not due to the wants of the body, but to the want of exercise, of a healthy diet, and of a sufficient amount of sleep.

We bring to the attention of all weary, dependent, hopeless, and sickly women earth's great healer and health builder, Paine's Celery Compound. Thousands of healthy women have used it with great vigor, activity, and robustness to Paine's Celery Compound, tells who she was snatched from the grave, she says:

"I might do it as soon as I had two mortgages on my house, a bill on the hardware, a bill of sale on the furniture, and writers' cramp in both hands; but at present I am busy, and contented to go on with the regular writing business."

The great preacher, Charles Spurgeon, repudiated him in an ascending scale of denial. The first reply ran:

"It will only be a waste of time for you to see me, as I am not at all in your line."

The second said:

"Your good-natured pertinacity is so admirable that I trust you will not waste it upon an impossible object. The whole United States in bullion would not tempt me to deliver one such lecture."

The third reply was conclusive: "I have, in a plain manner as possible, declined to make your acquaintance, and I beg, with all courtesy and decision, to do the same again. I know your business, and I have no wish to enter upon it further."

Plenty more proof like this from Mr. Sterling people. Call at the drug store of F. C. Duerson's and ask what his customers report.

NEW TERRAPIN TRAPS.
Latest Devices Made of Wires on Lines
Similar to Elsetop.

Every season some new device is invented for catching or trapping the toothsome Maryland terrapin, particularly that delight of the epicure, the diamond-backed terrapin, says the New York Times. Over on the eastern shore the latest device is a trap constructed about on the same principle as an elsetop. The body of the trap is made of wire and the entrance of twine so woven that the terrapins easily enter but find it impossible to get out. The trap is then filled with bait, for the most part crushed crabs, and set in the marsh where terrapin have been located. The terrapin hunter walks through the marsh and discovers his game by the protruding heads, as the terrapin are compelled to come to the surface to breathe.

Many of them are drowned in these traps, and one hunter states that he has seen 22 drowned in this manner during the present summer. A terrapin cannot live in one of these traps over three hours, and thus the hunter must be on the move constantly if he would preserve his game alive.

Terrapin are also being caught in purse nets, but these cannot be used in shallow streams successfully on account of the numerous stumps of trees on the bottom.

One hunter made a large haul with a fyke net some weeks ago. He saw a large number of terrapin going up a shallow marsh stream and knew that it was useless to follow them at once on account of the numerous deep holes, which rendered the terrapin practically safe from pursuit. He therefore stopped up the stream with the exception of one narrow outlet, in which he placed his fyke.

Night after night he waited patiently for the terrapin to come down. At length one night there came a heavy rain, and the terrapin came down with a rush, so that he caught more of them than he had caught at one time for many years.

Many, many instances could I cite, but I will quote one case of kindness which came under my personal observation.

Important Deals.

We clip the following from the Magazine (Ark.) Gazette:
 "C. C. McCormick now is a member of the Magazine Real Estate Co. The company is now composed of the following gentlemen: J. J. Barrett, Dr. J. D. Harris, and C. C. McCormick. This is a good reliable company and any one wishing to sell or buy real estate will do well to confer with them. They have made several very important deals since they have been in the business." Our best wishes attend him.

Return From Texas.

On Thursday Patrick Chase, of Jeffersonville, returned from a short trip to Houston, Texas. He bought 157 acres of rice land near Katy, 17 miles from Houston. Whether or not he will put into practice his agricultural knowledge gained or the fertile fields around Jeffersonville upon the rice fields of Texas, remains to be seen.

He left at our office a sample head of rice and the horns of a Texas steer. Call and see if you wish. He was accompanied by H. H. Salyer.

Clothing Economy.

"Save enough on your suit to buy you a hat," is the rather attractive text of Oldham Bros. & Co.'s advertisement elsewhere in this paper. This firm sells the hand-tailored clothing of Schloss Bros. & Co., "the best clothes makers" of Baltimore, Md. They are the largest manufacturers in the world of men's attire, and their Brighton Sack is one of the most popular suits. A very handsome suit can be had for so little money as $15.

El Kimball Auctioneer, reports the sale of T. J. Fletcher on the 29th, near Carmago as follows:

Farm of 44 acres to Marion Chase for $900, one red cow for $25; two calves $15; one aged mare $18.75; three pigs $5.25; corn 60¢ to $1.55 per shock. Household and farming implements sold fairly well. Mr. Fletcher leaves at once for Clay City, where he is engaged as book-keeper for Capt. A. E. Barnet & Son. We regret to lose Mr. Fletcher and family, but our loss is Powell county's gain.

Additional Protection.

While water for fire protection is scarce, resort will be made to the cistern dug before the present water works were constructed.

The Mt. Sterling authorities have kindly let us have their steam engine. Water will be forced into the water mains and the various fire cisterns will be filled.—Winchester Democrat.

Temperance Lecture.

Mrs. Katherine Lente Stevenson, President of the Mass. W. C. T. U. will lecture in this city at the Baptist church on Friday evening at 7:30. She is prominent in temperance work, and we hope many will hear her on this important question. Admission 25 cents. Proceeds will apply on public fountain debt.

Too Much Gas.

H. L. Green and wife, of Chicago, were killed by escaping gas. He was editor of the Free Thought Magazine, a leading infidel Journal.

New Bank.

A new bank is to be opened at Sandy Hook, Elliott county, in the near future. Dr. L. P. Williams of the Lenora Deposit Bank, Morehead, is the promoter.

Circuit Court.

Circuit court opened at Morehead on Monday of last week with his Honor Judge Cooper on the bench, for his last term of court. Owing to the interest aroused by the coming election, court adjourned on Tuesday until after the election.

The ladies of the Baptist Church will give a Court-Day dinner the 3rd Monday in November.

Best suits, hats and shoes at Walsh Bros. new store.

At Home.

Walsh Bros. is composed of Robert and John J. Walsh, men born in the mercantile business here. Mr. Sterling. Mr. Robert Walsh's introduction into business was with that Prince of merchants C. W. Carpenter, in the Mammoth stores, known as C. W. Carpenter & Co. From this firm he was associated with L. B. Ringold. John J.'s debut in business was under the employment of Mr. Ringold. They were with him in the clothing and furnishing business, the former seven years and the latter four years. They came here from Carlisle, Robert came in 1884 and John in 1886, they were with Mr. Ringold until February 1890 when they formed a partnership under the above styled firm and purchased of Mr. Ringold his stock. Their capital was small savings from salesmen salaries and the confidence which they established with Mr. Ringold and the trade. As evidence of worth after seven years' work in the same store, Main street is the most metropolitan structure on North West corner of Main and Maysville streets recently designed and constructed especially for their business. The building is so constructed as to show to the best advantage from any point you may approach it. It is really a three story building. The first a basement room with a grouted cement floor which is employed as follows: The hall next to Maysville street is a furnace room and packing room. The first floor with entrance exactly on the corner is 32x72 feet, ceiling 14 feet with balcony in rear which is gained by a stairway of easy decline. On Maysville and Main streets are handsome show windows in natural furniture finished oak and 2 French plate glass windows 8x14 feet. The window on Main has a depth of three feet with six feet on Maysville. The tables on which rest the high makes of clothing, the umbrella stands and window furniture were furnished by Oscar Onkay & Co., Cincinnati. The show and hat cases by Schmitt & Co., Cincinnati and the shelving, banisters and balcony cornice and railing is the fine natural wood finish from the mills of McCormick & Lyon and the architectural designing was by Ed. Williams, of this city. Sixty incandescent and two electric arcs furnish the lights. The front of the first floor is occupied with men's clothing and furnishings and the back part of their tools of men's and boy's for wear. The first balcony is occupied by book-keeper, cashier and a stock of Juvenile clothing. The second floor is filled with overcoats, trunks and travelling cases while the balcony to this floor is used for duplicate stocks. The building is in every way an ornament to the city, and the people are happy with this stirring firm, that they have in so short a time reached the goal of their ambition.

Walsh Bros. have moved to their new store on the corner.

Dawn of a New Era in Mt. Sterling Merchandising.

THE GRAND OPENING OF WALSH BROTHERS NEW STORE.

From the opening of our doors Saturday morning until the closing at midnight, our store was crowded with buyers and visitors who were elaborate in their praises for the neatness and completeness of this establishment. We are gracious for the many wishes of success showered on us by our patrons and know the public fully appreciates our efforts to give them a trading establishment for men and boys second to none in Kentucky. Everything new, not a dollar's worth of old stock in our house. All of this season's make, style and of the best brands in the world.

WALSH BROTHERS

Are here, and here to stay, and you people know our career in merchandising in this town. You know we have raised the standard of qualities and lowered the prices in every instance of everything we have touched or handled. Whenever a cut in prices was necessary and the public benefitted, WALSH BROS. have been first to do it; and we shall go on and on, standing on the same foundation, in the same course, using the same methods, doing what we believe to be right, carrying the largest stock, the newest styles and best brands; refunding the money when purchase is not satisfactory, treating the child the same as the parent, as long as we remain in the clothing business, and sooner or later you will become one of the buying throng that outgrew our old quarters and forced us to a larger and brighter building right in the heart of the city.

We urge you to come and inspect our magnificent stock, and see how much better goods and how much farther your dollar will go here than elsewhere.

WALSH BROTHERS,

DEATHS.

BARK — Barna Bark, aged 70 years, died at Jackson on Friday night.

JAMES.—Gladys, the bright six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. James, of Georgetown, Ill., died of fever at their home on Friday, October 29, 1903. Mrs. James is a grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Stephens, and Mrs. James is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kimberlin, of this county. To the bereaved parents we extend our heart felt sympathy in the loss of their darling little one.

POYRCE.—Miss Carrie Poyrce died Saturday morning, October 21, at 7:00 o'clock. She fell Aug. 17th and broke her hip. She rallied and seemed to be doing well until a week before her death when she began to decline in strength. The end came so gently and peacefully that the family hardly knew she was dead. Born in Scott Co., Ky., February 16, 1882. Joined Cherry Spring Presbyterian Church in 1895, under the preaching of Rev. Dr. Marion L. Price, D. D. She lived a simple life, loved by all who knew her. She was a friend who never faltered, devoting her days and years to doing good. There are those living who recall the soft touch, the cooling drink, the words of cheer, the night of vigil when they were fever fisted or suffering with pain that she sat beside the bed in sleepless attendance to their wants. The Confederate Veteran well remembers the best values in all lines carried by the Globe.

MARRIAGES.

SCOTT TUCKER.

Roy Scott and Miss Louie Tucker, both of Clark county, will be married November 11. The attendants are Wm. Franklin and Miss Rachel Tucker sister of the bride.

HAMILTON STAGGS.

Mr. W. C. Hamilton, of this city, and Miss Nancy E. Staggs, of Sid View, will be married at the bride's home on to-morrow (Tuesday) morning, November 5, 1903. The officiant will be Rev. H. D. Clark will officiate. After a short bridetrial they will go to house-keeping in the Breton cottage on West High street. The groom is a native of Menefee county, son of W. S. Hamilton, a young attorney of good repute, courteous and worthy. The bride is the daughter of W. P. Staggs. She is a graduate of Bourbon College and an accomplished young lady. Our best wishes attend them.

STRONG-HAGINS.

At Jackson on October 29, 1903 Kash Strong and Miss Luia Hagins were united in marriage.

RELIGIOUS.

Rev. George W. Tupper, of Louisville, preached at Sharpsburg Sunday.

Dr. J. L. Weber, president of Kentucky Wesleyan College, will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist Church Sunday morning and evening.

Geo. O. Barnes was in a meeting at Flemingsburg last week. On the 5th of November he begins at Sandy Hook, the 12th at West Liberty and the 19th at Salyersville.

Rev. George W. Clark, pastor of the First Presbyterian church will have for his theme on next Sunday morning, "After the Election What?" A very cordial invitation is extended to the public.

On Sunday morning many of the Christian churches in Kentucky took offerings for State Missions. The cash receipt and pledges at the church in this city amounted to $115.70, other sums will be added to this.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet on Thursday at 2 o'clock p. m. in the Sunday school room of the Christian church. Every member is requested to be present for business of importance. Please be prompt.

Dr. W. H. Sledge, of Helena, Arkansas, will be here on Wednesday, the 18th, and speak at 8 p. m. on that evening at the Baptist Church and also Sunday morning and evening of the 22nd. To these services all members and friends of the congregation are invited.

Dr. J. J. Taylor, now president of Georgetown College, is one of the most gifted preachers of the South, and our pulpit committee are to be congratulated that they have the consent of Dr. Blake, of Lexington, whose pulpit Dr. Taylor was to occupy the coming Sunday morning and evening, permitting him to preach at the Baptist Church here at those times. Hear Dr. Taylor Sunday morning and evening.

Rev. E. O. Guerrant, D. D. preached at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday evening. Many of the doctor's old friends and neighbors were glad of this opportunity to hear him, and they were not disappointed, for he preached a very helpful and comforting sermon on God being a very present help in all the trials and sorrows of life.

On Sunday Rev. H. D. Clark began his 17th consecutive year's pastorate of the Christian church in our city. This fact is of itself evidence of acceptable service. He is deservedly popular not only with his congregation, but with the people of the community. We see no reason why his services here should not continue for many years. We always feel satisfied, free from anxiety, when we know that he is to appear before any audience, whether in the C. E. meeting before his congregations or in State assemblies. May God's blessing attend him and his.

A large congregation greeted Rev. Geo. A. Joplin at the First Presbyterian church on last Sunday morning when he preached on the topic "How Shall I Vote?"

Mr. Joplin took for his text "Choose you this day whom ye will serve." He urged that in government like ours every man should be a politician to the extent of studying what laws would be good for the country, what men would best make and enforce good laws, and then in voting and working for the election of such men. After giving many practical suggestions in regard to how good measures could be adopted, he closed by saying that the most important thing was for a man to get right with God, then his neighbor, his fellowmen will be of little importance, for when the hearts of men are right, then homes will be right and government will be just.

BRUNETTES AND BLONDES.

Woman of Fair Face and Tresses Said to Make Ideal Wife.

The little blonde, with her fair hair and baby blue eyes, is said to make the ideal wife—the wife the man paints in brain pictures before marriage. She yields the reins of a household with a natural aptitude for her enormous position, and at the same time allows her husband to rule over her and himself with a graceful complacency which her darker sister could never even assume.

Now, the secret of a fair woman's matrimonial success, says the Chicago Chronicle, lies in her temperament.

She is easy-going and, though generally possessed of a certain amount of natural conceit, that conceit never by any chance runs on intellectual lines; it is her mere personal prettiness and the like that give it birth. Thus she tacitly admits the superiority of man, bending herself unquestioningly to his will, and man, with the old inherent feudal instincts strong within him, accepts her subservience, and deems her an ideal wife accordingly, even though perchance she should fall short of many of the perfections of his matrimonial ideal woman.

With a darker woman things matrimonial present a totally different aspect.

Her characteristics are averse to submission, as a fair woman accepts the meaning of the word, and, while realizing the burden of her vow to "love, honor and obey," she also considers it binding upon the man to levy only such laws of obedience upon her as himself will also observe.

She resents the aspersions that women were merely created for decorative purposes within their husband's home, and in many instances under the cramping confines of domesticity the dark woman has discovered a latent capacity to storm the labor market which has been crushed dormant by the heredity of generations.

When this happens woe and bitterness enter into the family camp; for the man, fearing he or his home and creature comforts may be neglected, starts a series of petty oppositions that crush out the sentiment and love of marriage.

The onus of settling down and accepting the humdrum routine of the average domestic life finds scant favor with a blonde; her instincts are not domestic. She can, love, and with her the grand passion is a passion that verily becomes part of her being, but the highest, holiest love of the wide world over all will not eradicate inherent characteristics, though for a time it may cast them into the background by the brilliancy of its novelty. And under the influence of that novelty the dark bride will make a semblance of successful housekeeping.

Excess

Of Smoking Affected My Heart

So I Had To Sit Up To Breathe.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Me.

There is nothing that has a more deleterious effect upon the cardiac or heart nerves than smoking. The heat and tenderness around the heart, an oppressive feeling in the chest, choking sensation in the throat, and a general sense of weariness and smothering spells at night when the sufferer has to sit up in bed to breathe are the symptoms of heart trouble. Smokers who feel these symptoms and who do not understand what smoking should be, may be sure that they are smoking too much.

"I was greatly troubled with an affection of the heart, due I think to excessive smoking. One day I had to sit up to breathe, and to begin a course of treatment which included Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is a safe, simple remedy with nothing, etc. I faithfully followed the directions given and am pleased to say that my heart trouble has entirely disappeared. After beginning the use of your remedies I have not suffered greatly from severe pain around the heart. Many times at night I would have to sit up to breathe, and to get my breath, and for the time being it would seem as though my heart had stopped beating. But now, after taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, Restorative Nerve and other remedies for heart trouble and nervous troubles."—Yours truly, EDWARD HALL, Dothan, Ala.

FEMALE WEAKNESS

501½ Congress St.
Portland, Maine
I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any other drink I have ever taken. It is the best medicine with which I have ever been treated. I take a glass every day and it has done me good. My limbs would often give way and I could not stand up. I naturally fell into a chair and lay down. With the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-sender to me. A few glasses a day and I am well again.

Periodical headaches tell of female weakness. Wine of Cardui is a particularly nutritious out of every twenty cases of headaches, bearing down pains or any female weakness. If you are not satisfied, send back. If you failed, this is the best reason in the world you should try Wine of Cardui now. Remember that Wine of Cardui is the mean standard of Wine of Cardui today.

WINE OF GARDUI

HIS QUESTION ANSWERED.

At Any Rate, the Inquisitive Drummer Asked No More.

A passenger entered a railway carriage in Australia in which was seated a particularly aggressive commercial traveler, and placed in the rack opposite (a small) wooden box pierced with holes, says the Sporting Times.

In the conversation which followed the commercial traveler gave several hints that he would like to know what was in the box, without avail. At last his curiosity got the better of him.

"I say, old man," he asked, "what have you in that box?"

"A mongoose," was the reply.

A series of diplomatic remarks followed, aimed at getting the reason for carrying a mongoose; but no explanation was offered, the commercial traveler had to say plump out:

"What are you going to do with that mongoose?"

The answer he got was: "I'm going to see a friend who has been drinking of late—so heavily, in fact, that he has developed delirious tremens. You may be aware that people so suffering are inclined to see snakes, and you may also be aware that there is nothing on earth so deadly to snakes as a mongoose."

He sat back, evidently satisfied that he had given a full and complete explanation.

"But—but, I say," said the commercial traveler, "those snakes are imaginary."

"So is my mongoose," returned the person interrogated.

BIRTH OF A BUTTERFLY.

Pupaing of Caterpillar as Described by an Eye-Witness.

"The Listener" of the Boston Transcript was fortunate enough to witness lately the pupating of a "Monarch" caterpillar which had been captured and placed in a cage for that purpose. The caterpillar, after a short period of damps, attached his feet to the top of the box and hung head downward for several hours. Then began a most curious process of denuding itself of its black and yellow striped skin and sealing itself up in a small, transparent green case, suspended by a slender stem that was fastened securely to the top of the box. This case was like a shell, smooth and shiny and quite hard, and was decorated with tiny yellow spots here and there. After two weeks of close watching, the chrysalis was found one morning cracked from end to end, and clinging to the wire netting was a beautiful great butterfly, all black and red, his newly unfolded wings slowly moving back and forth in the morning light. A few drops of chloroform painlessly put an end to his brief existence, and the now lifeless entombed in a plaster parson mount, a thing of beauty and an ornament worth having.

Dare to do right.

BRAVEST HUNTERS IN WORLD

Rubber Cutters of Central America Fight Jaguars with Machetes.

President Roosevelt, Selous, Gordon Cumming and other world-famous hunters of big game must play second fiddle to the "rubber cutters" of the Chiapas forests in Central America. It is the daily business and pleasure of these men to fight jaguars and cheetahs with no better weapon than the long, heavy knife called a machete in Latin-American countries.

Wandering alone in the jungle in search of rubber trees, says the Chicago Inter Ocean, the rubber cutter lives for months with suppressed starvation, which with suppressed excitement makes him superhumanly trained. Pain would pass through his body like a lightning bolt but he could not stand up. I naturally fell into a chair and lay down. With the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui came as a God-sender to me. A few glasses a day and I am well again.

After nineteen days breaking, I measured myself and found the agencies I usually did and soon became fatigued. Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish all American women knew of its good qualities.

"Carumba!" he mutters, disconsolately. "I suppose I'd better make a fire."

Perhaps he is too lazy, and just drops off to sleep, ready to fight any wild beast that dares to disturb his dreams. But if he is a cautious man, he builds a little hut of branches and lights a wood fire in the doorway. Then he slings his hammock inside the hut, places his machete by his side, and, with the blazing, crackling fire on one side and the sheltering roof on the other, sleeps as tranquilly as though there were no jaguars or alligators nearer than the cheetah.

"Carumba!" he mutters, disconsolately. "I suppose I'd better make a fire."

Seldom does a rubber cutter return to the civilized settlements without a few skins of jaguars, slain in deadly combat with machete or club. He often seeks out the wild beasts and fights them for a dinner when he runs short of food.

Louis Mendoza, a famous hunter and rubber cutter of Spanish Honduras, was once attacked by a cheetah when asleep in his hammock. He woke up to find the beast on his chest, digging its claws into his neck. Seizing it by the throat, he swung out of the hammock into the wood fire burning a few yards away. Over and over they rolled among the blazing sticks, until the cheetah, howling with pain, broke away and fled into the jungle.

The ordinary man would have been satisfied with that victory. Not so Mendoza. Covered with wounds and burns as he was, he caught up his machete and followed the trail of that cheetah for two days until he caught it and slew it after another desperate battle.

No wonder the beasts of the forest have a healthy respect for the rubber cutters of Chiapas! Taught by bitter experience, they seldom attack them now.

"Why don't you carry a gun?" one of these men was asked.

"It is too heavy, and what need?" was the reply. "I would like to see the wild beast that I could not kill with my machete. Why, I have known men to fight a jaguar with their bare hands and strangle it. There is no sport hunting with a gun. It is child's work."

A Hard Worker.

In his present position Lord Curzon works 14 hours a day. He starts in the early morning, works till half past one—or lunch time—he gives an hour and a half to the numerous guests he has, then he works again till dinner time; at half past ten he leaves his dinner guests, goes to his study and remains there till two o'clock in the morning. He seldom spends more than an hour and a half in the open air each day. And he works at this high pressure wherever he may be—on board a steamer, in a railway or when resting at one of his temporary dwellings during his tours. And yet those who meet him as his guest can scarce realize that he is so terrible a worker.
